Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 10 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Heavy showers fading quickly this evening. Drier on Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Remaining showers dying away during the evening, leaving a mainly dry, mild, but rather cloudy night. Low cloud and patchy light rain remaining over the Pennines. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Saturday:
Rather cloudy at first, but otherwise a brighter day, with some sunny spells. Further showers developing later, but these fewer and lighter than of late. Remaining rather warm and humid. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A rather uncertain period: probably on the cloudy side with a few showers to end the weekend. Perhaps drier Monday, ahead of a breezier Tuesday, with a risk of rain.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.